This Week...

Thank you for a positive and successful first week of school! As a way to support home-to-school communication, I will be sending home weekly newsletter with class highlights and news. This week in 1H we are building our class community, making new friends, and learning names. After reading Gingerbread Man Loose in the School, we took a school tour while following clues from the gingerbread man. The clues took us to the art room, school library, the nurses office, the gym, the front office, Mrs. LB's office, and the lunchroom. This activity was so much fun, 1H was full of excitement! We also learned about school safety and practiced for a fire drill. We toured the playground, discussed playground safety, and created playground rules. In Math, we created a human number line and we found numbers around our room. We had a great week!
